

Fai AlAjlan – Design Delivery Manager

Fai AlAjlan holds the pivotal role of Design Delivery Manager at Boutique Group, where she connects the conception and execution teams on the group's design projects. Her primary focus is on crafting, implementing and overseeing new interior design concepts that seamlessly align with the company's vision.

AlAjlan's journey of self-expression has fuelled her professional growth, allowing her to skilfully blend traditional elements with modern aesthetics. With a special emphasis on integrating Saudi heritage into contemporary designs, AlAjlan spearheads the development of the unique "Saudi Neo Heritage" design line.

AlAjlan has been working at Boutique Group for three years and has eight years of experience in the interior design industry. Before joining Boutique Group, she worked at Saudi Oger. She holds a bachelor's degree in interior design engineering, which brings a unique perspective to her creative endeavors.
